This is a detailed topographic map of a region in Tuscany, Italy, centered around the town of Spedale. The map features several key elements:

- Rivers: The Arno River flows through the center of the map from the northwest towards the southeast.
- Towns and Villages: Labeled locations include S.Polo di Rubbiana, Montemassio, Panzalla, Spedale, Rubbiana, and Chiesa. There are also smaller labels like "S. Polo", "Panzella", and "Montemassio".
- Roads: A network of roads is shown, including the main road labeled "SS9" and other routes like "SS9 bis", "SS9 ter", and "SS9 quater".
- Buildings and Landmarks: Numerous small brown rectangles represent buildings. Specific landmarks include "Chiesa" (church) near the bottom center and "Torre" (tower) near the bottom right.
- Topography: Contour lines indicate elevation, with peaks reaching up to 794 meters. Green areas represent forests or parks.
- Administrative Divisions: The map shows boundaries between different municipalities and regions, with labels like "Regione Toscana" and "S.I.T.A. - Dati A.D.T. - SIGMATER".
